

“MY AIM IS TO TRANSFORM THE SKYLINE OF INDORE”

- Jimmy Mistry
Chief Architect, Della Tecnica

Our first meeting with Jimmy Mistry at Della Tower, his awe-inspiring Mumbai office gave us an insight into the man and his radically different approach towards design.

No other current day architect would be having such a profound impact on the skyline of Indore: as would Jimmy Mistry's designs, which is evident through the multiple projects that he has been assigned to by the leading developers and corporates of Indore, be it mass housing townships, commercial buildings, second home gated communities, education institutions, hotels or corporate interiors.

With a deeper connection to Indore than just designing its homes, here is a man whose aim is to transform the skyline of Indore city through his designs.

"I have a very special place in my heart for Indore where I have spent the five best years of my early life studying at St. Pauls Higher Secondary School. That is when I fell in love with the city's architecture and heritage buildings like the Hukumchand Haveli, Daly College, Lalbagh Palace (replica of the Buckingham Palace gate), Ghanta Ghar and the forts at Mandu. If the Madhya Pradesh Government permits I would love to restore and design the lighting for these structures and make them a tourist attraction."

Jimmy Mistry has another dream to give Indore a new landmark. "I want to create something that can be this emerging and developing city's symbol of modernity and pride," he says.

DESIGN PHILOSOPHY

"I want to redefine the way people live through my designs and bring in high-end design to mass-housing and enhance and uplift the lives of as many people as possible," says Mistry.

He inspires all inspired in architecture, art and real estate development, and shows us what can be done when one is committed to testify the boundaries of architecture, urbanism and design.

Who would have imagined that a mechanical engineer would one day shake the roots of conventional architectural wisdom and carve a niche for himself; through his work he has proved beyond doubt that it doesn't necessarily take a degree from an elite design school to set new benchmarks in design.

He has never had any formal education in art, architecture or design, yet through the last 17 years he has transformed several cultures into dynamic environments, and crafted many value propositions into experiences.

From major Master Planning and Mass Housing projects to large scale Architectural Projects from Shopping Malls to TV studios, from UB Group Headquarters, Bangalore for Dr. Vijay Mallya to his award winning Yacht Design, from Headquarters of Bajaj Auto, Pune for Rajeev Bajaj to award winning Bajaj Probiking retail store design. Sahara Housing Headquarters and Shopping Mall, Lucknow for Shri Subrata Roy Sahara, Religare Financial Services Headquarters, Noida for Sunil Godhwani and L&T Finance Headquarters, Mumbai are some of the many projects that he has designed.

For his creative design efforts, he is amassed a string of awards and recognitions.
